Minnesota judges and lawyers to play hockey for Legal Aid

Monday, March 31, 2003

The Generation Next Committee has announced the annual "Lawyers on Ice" hockey event to raise visibility for Southern Minnesota Regional Legal Services.

Gov. Tim Pawlenty, Rep. Tim Pugh, and judges, lawyers, hockey celebrities and others will make up the teams. This year the event has expanded to four teams with over 60 players participating in three games, including a championship game. Fun lovers, hockey lovers and lovers of the law are all invited to attend with families and friends.

The current roster of players includes Ramsey County District Court judges Michael T. DeCourcy and Michael F. Fetsch, former Minnesota State Bar Association president Kent Gernander, many Ramsey County attorneys and several private practitioners. Former NHL player Jim Korn and former Hobey Baker Award winner Robb Stauber are among the hockey luminaries expected to attend.

The event will take place April 7 from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Xcel Energy Center Arena. The Minnesota Wild is donating use of the facility. The games are free and open to the public.
